- planning and managing the delivery of environmental watering,
- planning and regulating estuary management,

- providing advice to local governments and communities on flood plain management, and;
- managing the Barwon River and parklands through Geelong and two drainage systems.

About 380,000 people live in the catchment's 13,340 square kilometres in south-west Victoria that includes 175 kilometres of coastal fringe. The region is renowned for its landscape diversity including its spectacular coastline, the Otways, the volcanic plains and the Central Highlands. These landscapes support strong agriculture and forestry sectors, and contain lakes and wetlands of national and international significance, highly valued rivers and estuaries and a range of native flora, fauna, ecological communities and aboriginal cultural values.
