

Catchment Conversations- Healthy Waterways on Farms

When: Friday 6th October 8:30am– 5pm (morning tea and lunch included)

Where: Deakin University, Waurn Ponds, Peter Thwaites Lecture Theatre

Cost: Free event and all are welcome

Project site - before

Join us for a morning of presentations with Professor Ian Rutherford on historical management of rivers in the Corangamite region, including how and why rivers change, Honorary Associate Professor John Sherwood on nutrient runoff and stock management, and also learn about:

- Indigenous cultural values and stories of waterways
- In-stream habitat for native fish
- Native plants and how to source from local nurseries
- Common riparian weeds, how to identify and control them

Visit a farm in the afternoon with a recently completed river restoration project and learn about the challenges and benefits of completing this work.

Registration: <https://ccma.vic.gov.au/waterway-management/event-catchment-conversations-healthy-waterways-on-farms/> to register for one or both components:

- Morning presentations 8.30am - 1:45pm
- Field tour 1.45pm-5pm (capped at 50 people, moderate walking involved)

Project site - after